

Ceremonies For Friday Impressive

Neurology Institute Scene Of Founder's Day Proceedings

NOTABLES TO ATTEND CORNERSTONE LAYING

Lord Bessborough Will Assist In 'Observation Of Anniversary

Celebration of Founder's Day on Friday of this week will be marked not only by the traditional observation of the birthday of James McGill, and the annual Fall Convocation, but also by ceremonies denoting a further step in the expansion of McGill University—the laying of the cornerstone of the Neurological Institute by His Excellency, Lord Bessborough. A military and colorful note will be added to proceedings by the presence of a detachment of the Grenadier Guards.

The Neurological Institute has been made possible through the generosity of the Rockefeller Institute and certain private benefactors, such as Sir Herbert Holt, Mr. J. W. McConnell, Mr. Walter Stewart and anonymous donors. The building has been especially equipped for research in neurology, neurosurgery and the physiology and pathology of the nervous system. University authorities have pointed out that McGill should view with pride the fact that Montreal was selected by the Rockefeller Foundation as the centre for this work.

Daily Honoured.
A copy of the McGill Daily will be placed in the cornerstone on Friday. Other special features will mark the occasion. A large number of notables will be present. While the ceremonies will be open to the general public, a special enclosure will be set aside for those. In addition, 10 students will be selected from the Medical Faculty and allowed to occupy a place beside the officials and special guests.

The ceremonies this year begin with a Convocation at which will be present His Excellency the Governor-General, representing the King as Visitor of the University, because of the fact that McGill has a Royal Charter granted in the year 1821, under which it is provided that the Governor-General of Canada shall represent His Majesty in the government of the University. On Friday, at 12 noon, the Visitor's Flag will be hoisted over the Arts Building. The Convocation proceedings will begin at 12.15 p.m., in the Mowat Hall. Her Excellency the Countess of Bessborough will be present, accompanied by the Hon. Mrs. Ives and by Lady Currie, wife of the Principal of McGill.

Chancellor's Address.
Mr. E. W. Beatty, K.C., LL.D., Chancellor of the University, will open with a brief word of welcome to His Excellency. After His Excellency's reply, the regular Convocation proceedings will continue; the Principal, Sir Arthur Currie, will deliver the Founder's Day address, and a number of degrees will be awarded.

At 1.15 p.m., the Governors of the University will entertain at luncheon. The Governor-General will be present. Other invited guests are, the Honourable Athanasios David, Provincial Secretary, representing Premier Taschereau; Colonel the Honourable R. F. Stoddell, K.C., Provincial Treasurer; the Honourable J. H. Dillon; the Honourable Fernand Rinfret, Mayor of Montreal; Alderman J. M. Gables, Chairman of the Executive Council, and Alderman Alfred Legault, who was Chairman of the Council during Alderman Gables' absence last winter; the Right Reverend John C. Farrington, Bishop of Montreal; Mr. A. V. Joseph Plette, Rector of the University of Montreal; Dr. L. de Lotbiniere Harwood, Dean of the Medical Faculty at the University of Montreal; Mgr. Camille Roy, Rector of Laval University; Dr. Louis Reford, Mr. A. A. Hodgson, Mr. Howard Murray, Lieut.-Colonel F. R. Phelan, M.C., Mr. R. H. McDonald, Colonel E. G. M. Cape, Mr. W. R. Chonoweth, Superintendent of the Royal Victoria Hospital; Professor C. F. Martin, Dean of the Medi-

Note To Editors

There will be an important meeting of all associate editors of the McGill Daily this afternoon at five, in the office.

It is absolutely imperative that every associate editor, of both news and sports departments, should be present.

Arts Building Will Be Site Of New Undergrad Library

About 1500 Volumes Received As Part Of Carnegie Grant

SELECTION VARIED

Books Temporarily Housed In Room 7 Of Arts Building

A Library innovation this session which will add considerably to the convenience and resources of undergraduate reading is the installation of a reading-room in the Arts Building, opposite the Dean's Office. This extension of Library facilities has been made possible by the generosity of the Carnegie Corporation of New York, which has granted a sum of money, payable for three years, to be used for a supply of books of general interest to students. Text-books, required readings, periodicals are not within the range of the collection, which is designed rather to extend the scope of the students' reading in general cultural directions.

With the approval of the Principal, the Dean of the Faculty of Arts has made Room No. 7 available for the temporary housing of this Carnegie Collection, and shelves and tables have been installed. The selection of books has been made on the basis of recommendations by members of the Faculty and on the "List of Books for College Libraries" prepared for the Advisory Group of College Libraries by the Carnegie Corporation.

1500 Volumes Ready

Though the first instalment of the grant was received only last spring, about 1500 volumes have been ordered, catalogued, and placed upon the shelves ready for the opening of the session, and the Reading Room will be open for the present from 10-12 and 2-6 daily and on Saturdays from 10-12.

The policy of considering suggestions of books from the students themselves which was begun last spring will be continued and a suggestion book will be provided in the Reading Room in which students may propose volumes which they consider appropriate for the Collection. It is to be understood, of course, that less than one-third of the complete collection has thus far been purchased and that additions will be made regularly during the session. Many interesting titles are on order.

In addition to the Carnegie Collection, the freshmen readings in First Year English and Natural Science will be found in this room; instead of in Room 13 as formerly.

Handbook Now Ready

A Students' Handbook to the various collections in the different parts of the University Library has been issued and copies may be obtained on registration at the Library.

Players' Club Find Experiment Success

Presented "Romantic Age" In Ottawa Little Theatre During Summer

The experiment attempted by the Players' Club during the summer months, in producing "The Romantic Age," proved successful. Played at Victoria Hall on June the first, and in the Ottawa Little Theatre on June 6th, it met with very favourable mention from the critics, and was also a financial success.

The net proceeds amounted to $60, which sum is to be presented to the Students' Council at an early date.

The "Ottawa Journal," in reviewing the play, said in part, "This is the first visit to Ottawa of this well-known organization, which stands high among the amateur dramatic groups of Montreal, and their acting and first class team work show why they have earned the praise of the critics." "Milne is one of the most difficult of playwrights to interpret, one depending on wit and characterization rather than plot and matter. To successfully stage one of his lighter comedies requires a very high degree of efficiency and sense of atmosphere."

"This task was well undertaken by the McGill players in this light, but amusing offering. They sensed its sense of fun, whimsical characterization, and at all times combined effectively to stress its flavour to the audience. So well did they do, that those present would be glad to see them return in the regular season and produce an even 'meatier' production." The University is to be congratulated on developing such a worthwhile dramatic organization.

The first general meeting of the club will be held on Tuesday, October 10th, at 5 p.m., when plans for this season will be announced.

The Principal's Message

I am grateful for this opportunity of extending a warm welcome to the students of McGill University, to those who are returning from vacation and to those who come for the first time.

At this season, when we are entering upon another year of effort, it is fitting to remind you of the fact that the Governors, Corporation, professors and students are all members of one great entity, sharing the responsibility for the welfare of McGill.

To those of you who are entering your first year of University life may I say this: At McGill you will be looked upon as responsible young men and women. There is no molly-coddling. You are expected to stand on your own feet and to do your own independent work. You will be given much latitude, even freedom, but if you abuse that freedom you will not succeed. I urge you therefore to use diligence and common sense, and to remember always that the welfare and dignity of the University are in your keeping.

I feel that I must call the attention of older members of the University to the unusual number of failures in seasonal examinations last year. These failures are not always due to laziness or to preoccupation with extra-curricular activities; most of them come about because of the lack of systematic, daily, private study, and the want of self-discipline. These are times of widespread suffering and hardship. It is more necessary than ever to realize fully the opportunities and privileges that are ours. A great, well-equipped and well-staffed university is an expensive plant, representing large investments in money, in thought, in sacrifice. Waste of time under present circumstances is almost criminal.

I appeal to all members of the University for a co-operative effort, to reduce the numbers of those forced to take supplemental examinations, and to ensure that we end the year with the fine record of high accomplishment that justifies the trust imposed in us all. The progress and success of the whole University can be achieved only through the earnestness, discipline, hard work and esprit de corps of all its members.

Arthur Currie

CALL FOR REPORTERS

Positions on the reporting staff of the McGill Daily are now open to all men and women undergraduates of McGill University.

Applicants should see the News Editor, R. A. C. Douglas, in the Daily Office, which is situated in the basement of the McGill Union, 690 Sherbrooke St. West, between the hours of one and five today.

There are about 50 vacancies on the staff for news and sports reporters. Former members of the Daily staff who are desirous of continuing their work are asked to come in as soon as possible so as to enable the Managing Board to assign the nights. Freshmen are especially welcomed.

The Daily offers elementary experience in practical journalism. Each man or woman is assigned to one day of his or her choice each week. Duties are arranged so as not to interfere with studies.

The Daily will be found an excellent introduction to college life, as every happening has its re-echo in the Daily office. The work is not hard and the surroundings congenial. Advancement is according to merit.

C. O. T. C. Officers Enthusiastic About Recruits' Support

Contingent Begins 22nd Session Of University Activity

TO ENLARGE UNIT

No Previous Military Training Necessary For Enrollment

The McGill University Contingent C.O.T.C. (148th Battalion C.E.F.) has started its twenty-second season with prospects for success. Never since the days of the Great War have the former members of the Corps been as prompt in re-attesting and never before have there been so many recruits on strength at such an early date, was the opinion of those in charge.

The McGill unit which is the Senior Officers Training Corps outside of the United Kingdom and which is the perpetuating unit of the 148th Battalion C.E.F. offers training leading to the Lieutenants and Captains certificates in the Infantry arm of the service. Thousands of undergraduates of the University have qualified for their certificates in this way and received commissions in His Majesty's forces all over the world.

Men Welcome

Major Pennel, the recruiting officer when interviewed recently stated that he will be in the recruiting office, 3480 University St. daily between 5.15 and 6.15 to sign on prospective members. He stated that previous military training is not essential and that men without any previous training are welcome.

This year the organization will be enlarged and the corps will take part in even more outdoor schemes than heretofore. Last year members of the unit experienced active service conditions in the vicinity of Terrebonne in

Exchange Prepared To Receive Books

Opens At 10 a.m. In Basement Of Union

Activities start today in the McGill Book Exchange as the office in the basement of the Union opens its portals for the sixth consecutive season. The executive have announced that the Exchange will be open daily from 10-1 and from 2-5. Today, however, no books will be sold, as the office is only open for the receiving of books. Starting tomorrow, however, books will be both bought and sold.

Students are reminded that the Book Exchange is operated solely for their benefit and that their cooperation is needed in order that the best results may be obtained. With this viewpoint in mind the manager of the Exchange has thought it best to avoid the usual opening day rush by delaying the sale of books until enough have been received to warrant brisk and efficient action. Cooperation on the part of students bringing in books is asked in this regard.

The function of the Exchange is to receive used text books and to attempt to sell them to students needing them. The student sets his own price on placing the book in the Exchange and is given a receipt which entitles him to either the return of his book or a monetary value equal to the price he has asked for it less 10 per cent deducted by the Exchange to cover overhead. All profits accrued by the Exchange go to the Students' Executive Society; the men in charge of the office hold honorary positions and receive no remuneration for services rendered.

The executive this year includes Selwyn Willis, manager; Ronnie Leatham, Leonard Picard, Jack Nolan, and Bert Hamilton.

Practice Called

University Band Starts Preparations Today

The Union Ballroom has been chosen as the scene of the first band practice of the year to take place this afternoon at five o'clock under the direction of Mr. Morris. A big turnout is imperative as the band must be organized to play at Saturday's football game.

All former bandmen are asked by the bandmaster to be on hand early as sweaters and caps will be available and the old custom of first come first served will be carried out. Newcomers to college who play drums and wind instruments are also asked to be on hand today or at their earliest possible convenience.

Special insignia are awarded by the Students' Executive Council in recognition of services in this unit. Fred Shaw is bandmaster this year and Clarence McCoy is manager.

Scholarship Grad Enthusiastic Over Trip To England

Robert Picard Returns From Post-Graduate Studies At London

"WHAT do I think of England?"

Why it's a wonderful little country and not so little at that," replied Robert Picard, recently returned from post graduate studies abroad, when questioned by the Daily. Picard has been studying at the London School of Economics during the past year on a scholarship awarded annually by the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, and did some extensive travelling in the vacation periods. He was News Editor of the Daily in 1931-32.

When asked how Canadian students are received abroad, Picard was most enthusiastic. "They treat us and others from the Overseas Empire better than their own; I have nothing but the utmost admiration for English people and English hospitality. I like a number of others, was fortunate in being able to visit several homes in different parts of the country and I have seldom enjoyed myself so much."

London Attracts Graduates

Commenting on the wonders of London, Picard stated that the University of London was adding rapidly to the countless attractions of the city by erecting new buildings and research stations to make it an outstanding centre of graduate study for Empire students. Questioned about accommodation for students in London, he went on to say that there is at present under way a scheme to provide excellent accommodation for British graduates at moderate fees. He referred to London House where a beginning has been made by providing room for some 60 men. Private endowments are behind this project.

"How did you find Europe?"

"Oh, it was quite easy, but after getting there one realizes that the term 'crazy quilt' aptly describes the relations between the Central European countries. Five of us drove our own car 3500 miles on the Continent; we were well received everywhere, from Amsterdam to Budapest, but I should not care to live there, beautiful as are most of the capital cities. There are too many political uncertainties."

Picard remarked that most Canadians he met abroad would live in London if they had the choice; the opportunities for culture and entertainment are the best anywhere, he added.

Course In French Adjudged Success

French Summer School Has 132 Students Enrolled

Although the Depression was responsible for considerable diminution in the number of students, nevertheless the French Summer School, conducted over the summer by McGill University had a successful team and had 132 enrolled. Of this number 25 were men and the rest women; while 36 were Canadians and the rest Americans.

The number of those who attended included 10 McGill undergraduates, several school teachers, social service workers, nurses, and business men. These came from various parts of the continent. Five Canadian provinces were represented, these being Quebec, Ontario, Manitoba, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia while some of the United States students came from points as far as Colorado, Kentucky, Louisiana and Texas.

Three Sections

Lectures were conducted in the mornings in the Royal Victoria College from nine to one. The teachers included members of the French Department of McGill and several other French teachers from different parts of the continent. There were also ten nuns in attendance. The school was held from June 26th to July 28th. The School was divided into three PLAYING somewhat better football than that shown against Westward earlier in the week but still lacking the smoothness and finesse of a top flight grid squad, the 1933 edition of McGill's senior football team scored a 17-0 victory over R.M.C. in their second and final pre-season game at Molson Stadium on Saturday afternoon. The Cadets were hardly a match for the Redmen. They were outweighed considerably and inexperience hampered the efforts of their backfielders to a marked degree. Both teams fumbled continually during the afternoon, but the McGill ball handlers steadied down as the game progressed. Touchdowns by Carsley and Krukowski comprised the major scores for the Redmen.

Richert Kicks Well

Tom Richert, a newcomer to McGill football ranks accounted for the additional seven points. Richert booted two points to the deadline and was credited with five rouges when red tacklers grassed the cadets behind their goal line on kicks. Richert's steady and effective punting was the standout of the afternoon while he turned in a creditable, all-round backfield performance. Herb Westman appeared in uniform but Coach Shaughnessy elected to hold him in reserve in order to have him in good shape for next Saturday's game with Varsity. Westman, star kicker of last year's freshman team, sustained a slight injury to his kicking foot during the baseball season and is nursing the injured member carefully.

Don Young, captain and mainstay of the Redmen, was another who failed to get into action. Young suffered a painful ankle injury during Wednesday night's game with Westward intermediates and was forced to rest up for the balance of the week, appearing on crutches to watch his teammates perform against the soldiers.

Score Two Touches

The first quarter was scoreless with fumbles prominent on both sides. At half time the Montrealers had a seven-point lead, Carsley having intercepted a forward pass and carried it across for a touch while Richert contributed two dead-line kicks. Three rouges by Richert gave the McGill gridgers a 10-point lead going into the final quarter. Two more points from Richert's toe and a touch by Al Krukowski put an end to the afternoon's scoring.

On the whole McGill were far better than their opponents but failed to display anything in the way of sensational rugby. Frequent fumbles spoiled both line plays and forward passes although several of the latter were completed for formidable gains. The line showed little strength in repelling the Cadet plungers, who ripped through for good gains on several occasions. However, the wing line operated efficiently under Richert's kicks and held the R.M.C. catchers well in check throughout. Markham, Olker and Carsley rarely missed a tackle and stopped their man in his tracks many times. Coach Shaughnessy and his aides have a week in which to prepare for the opening intercollegiate tilt against Varsity and should be able to field a much improved team, whose stock will gain immensely when Young and Westman line up.

College Teams Beaten

Western and Varsity took severe lacerations over the week-end while Queens, though beaten, did well to hold Ottawa's Rough Riders to a 9-5 score in the Capital city. Pre-season dope gives Varsity and Queens considerable of an edge but the college race may not be quite as one-sided as the experts opine once the schedule starts.

Wally Markham received the opening kick-off from Phillips' boot. An exchange of kicks and two fumbles by Whitaker and Phillips enabled Charles Letourneau to dribble the ball to the R.M.C. 25-yard line where McGill gained possession only to lose the ball on Krukowski's fumble on the next play. McGill regained the ball on the R.M.C. 50-yard stripe after a plunge by Burnett that netted seven yards and a kick into touch by Phillips. Richert kicked on third down after Craig and Gilbert had gained seven yards through the line. Markham dropped the receiver but McGill were penalized for not giving the receiver the required five yards. The Cadets attempted the first forward pass but it was incomplete. Three plays later

Welcome

IT IS THE pleasure of the "Daily" to extend to all students, old and new, a welcome to McGill.

To the upperclassmen the scene will not seem greatly different to that which greets them on previous returns to their Alma Mater. Graduation has removed from within her gates many who on previous years returned with them. Finances prevent others from returning. A hectic ten days at the end of last session has also taken its toll. But there are still enough old friends left to make the return pleasant.

To the freshmen the scene is entirely different. It is to you freshmen that we give an especial greeting. In the days to come you will be given a welcome by those of greater authority and in a manner more pompous but none will be more cordial.

Many of you have no doubt come from a great distance to enter McGill. You not only have to be welcomed to McGill but to Montreal as well. You will find that you have come not only to a cosmopolitan city but to a cosmopolitan university. Within these college walls you will find men and women from every corner of the world. Nowhere will you have a greater opportunity to gain an international outlook than in this city and this university.

You will receive a welcome here to the playing field. Many invitations will be extended to you to participate in athletics. We would remind you that the name of McGill is held in high esteem by all who are admirers of true sportsmanship. You will be expected to uphold that name in whatever sport you take part.

Many societies and organizations will seek to have you among their members. Before you choose we would ask you to give a thought to the "Daily". You are eligible to become a member of its staff; to have a share in its production; to receive experience in journalism and the variety of college life. With whatever society or organization you connect yourself enter wholeheartedly into its activities—push ahead and don't pull back.

Remember above all that you are here for study. Student organizations and athletics form but a minor part of the life of the university. Scholarship is McGill's one claim to greatness; that claim is second to none. If you are to remain here you will be called upon to show that you are capable of assimilating what you are taught. You will not be spoon-fed nor pampered but you will have to dig for yourself.

If you can enter into the athletic, social and above all the academic life of McGill with the idea not only getting something but of giving as well, then you are doubly welcome. McGill has you under trial: whether you win or lose depends largely upon yourself.

The Book Exchange

TODAY the Book Exchange is opening to receive books. In a few days it will be reselling these books to all and sundry. At this time it would be of use to outline the functions of the Book Exchange.

It is a student organization under the control of the Students' Council, existing not for profit, but for service. The average student is not supplied with funds to purchase books on the grand scale. Nevertheless he is afforded an excellent occasion of getting cheap, but serviceable books through the medium of the Book Exchange.

Too often the freshmen, through ignorance of the existence of this facility, purchases books which he cannot afford, and feels the pinch. The upperclassman also is offered the full facilities of this organization.

The Book Exchange is opening for receiving today, and tomorrow will be selling as well. It is a genuine service for the benefit of the student.

Patronize it.

Senior Footballers Beat
Cadets In Exhibition Tilt

Krukowski-Markham forward pass failed to click and after a small gain by Krukowski Richert hoisted the ball to the R.M.C. 35-yard mark. McGill gained possession when Phillips fumbled a snap-out but lost it again after two plays.

Cadet Attack Improves

Sisson and Phillips combined to reel off a 20-yard gain for the Soldiers around left end in a pretty effort. The attack kept right up and Sisson figured in another long gain, tossing a forward pass to Whitaker for 20 yards.

An offside penalty partly offset the gain and Phillips kicked to the McGill 8 yard line. Krukowski was held without a gain as the quarter ended.

A ten yard run by Phillips on Richert's kick was offset by a penalty. An exchange of kicks and a penalty left the ball on the R.M.C. 12 yard where Phillips fumbled an attempted kick to give McGill possession. Craig and Krukowski carried the ball to the one yard line from where Krukowski elected to have Richert kick for a single point when a touchdown looked imminent. Two plunges and a kick saw Craig dropped on the R.M.C. 48 yard line from where a Krukowski to Riddell forward pass went astray.

Richert kicked to the "23." Markham stopped Savage in an attempted end run and forced him to retire in favor of Phillips. The latter kicked to Craig on the 43 yard line and then Knight picked off a McGill pass and was stopped on the 45 yard stripe. The next play, an attempted forward pass by the Cadets resulted in the first major score, Bill Carley intercepting and galloping across the line unmolested. The convert went wide.

Soldiers Weaken

The soldiers' line weakened and allowed Burnett to be thrown for a loss and then Krukowski got through to block a kick and dribble the loose ball to the Cadets' 10 yard line where Phillips dropped on it. Craig caught the Cadets' kick on second down and Richert booted to the dead-line from 22 yards out to give the Redmen a seven point lead at half time.

After the kick-off and an exchange of kicks found the ball on McGill's "35." A pass that failed and two kicks left the ball on the 44 yard line but another incomplete pass and a penalty gave R.M.C. possession. The Cadet forward pass failed and Phillips kicked to Richert on the 23 yard mark. He kicked out of danger on the first play. Line bucks failed and the soldiers booted to Richert. Two smart forward passes, the first from Richert to Markham and the second from Krukowski to Richert moved the ball ahead thirty-seven yards. Craig gained eight and the Cadets spoiled a pass before Richert booted to Phillips who was downed for a point. An exchange of kicks and a plunge by Krukowski gave McGill a chance for a placement kick which went wide for a single point. Another kicking joust resulted in a single point from Richert's boot.

Krukowski Scores

A poor kick gave McGill the ball thirty-eight yards out and Richert kicked a touch-in-goal after a four-yard gain by Riddell. Phillips and Sissons combined to gain yards for the cadets with two line plunges. A fumble gave McGill the ball once again and Richert kicked a long one that Phillips just got out. The soldiers kicked on third down but Richert returned the ball on the next play to the 10 yard line. Penalties to both sides gave Richert another chance to boot the leather over the line to Phillips for a score. Letourneau picked up a blocked kick and reached the four yard line. Gilbert advanced the ball and Krukowski fell over on the next play for the final score.

Play see-sawed without much advantage until Byrne threw a pretty pass to Markham that netted almost twenty yards. One more play finished the game, the final score resting at 17-0 for McGill.

sections: Elementary, Intermediate and Advanced. The Advanced section was the largest and consisted of several students who were taking their M.A. degree in French and who were writing their theses.

In the Elementary section the work consisted entirely of dictation and grammar. In the Intermediate Grammar was continued but a study of French literature was added. In the Advanced section the work consisted entirely of modern literature including the works of such writers as Anatole France.

Plays In French

Besides the actual studies in French, the School also spent some time in sightseeing, having French plays, and other forms of recreation. In the afternoons the students would go for short trips about the city, and visit several spots of interest such as the Museum. In the evenings there were dances, French plays and shows which were put on by the students.

On July 1st the Canadians put on a show in memory of Dominion Day; on July 4th the Americans did likewise and on July 14th the Professors put on a play.

Exams Held

Examinations were held at the end of the term and these were written by ninety of the students. All passed successfully and several won medals and prizes offered by the French Government, the Alliance Française and the Librairie Beauchemin. Harrison Jones of Montreal West and Dudley Wilson, a school teacher, were the two Montreals who won prizes.

Radio Solves Problem

An enterprising Carnegie Tech engineering student, who spends his idle hours tinkering with a short wave set, received a calculus problem which was too difficult. Exasperated, he finally appealed for help over the air waves. The solution promptly came

Afternoon Ceremonies

The afternoon ceremonies will take place at the new building of the Neurological Institute on Upper University Street. Here colour will be lent to the proceedings by a Guard of Honour and Band supplied by the Canadian Grenadier Guards, through the courtesy of the local military authorities and of Lieut.-Colonel F. R. Phelan, M.C., the Commanding Officer. The Canadian Grenadier Guards participate in the annual Founder's Day ceremonies by reason of the fact that the Honourable James McGill was the first Colonel of the 1st Battalion Montreal Militia, from which the present Regiment is descended, and they thus have a particular connection with the University.

At 3:00 p.m. those who are to take seats on the platform will leave the McGill Medical Building and proceed in academic procession to the special enclosure at the Institute. His Excellency will be received by the Guard of Honour with the Royal Salute, and the ceremony of laying the corner stone will proceed, the dedication service being taken by His Lordship Bishop Farthing.

Tablet Unveiling

From the Neurological Institute His Excellency is proceeding to the Royal Victoria Hospital to unveil a tablet to the memory of the late Sir Vincent Meredith, Bart., former President of the Hospital, and to Lady Meredith, in recognition of their devoted interest and their many benefactions.

At the conclusion of the cornerstone ceremonies, the detachment from the Canadian Grenadier Guards and the Band will march to the tomb of James McGill in front of the Arts Building, where the customary Guard of Honour will be mounted and selections rendered by the Band.

The Institute is not expected to open until the beginning of next year inasmuch as sufficient equipment has not yet been obtained. When in full use, the Neurological Institute is intended to be of service to the local hospitals.

Plans are now being made for at least two schemes before Christmas which should be of very great benefit to all. These schemes are particularly for men who are going up for the certificate exams.

Col. Buchanan when interviewed by the Daily stated that this year drills will be held on Thursday nights instead of Tuesdays as was done last year. Through the kindness of Col. F. Phelan D.S.O. M.C. V.D. the Armoury of the Canadian Grenadier Guards will be used. The first regular parade will be held this Thursday at 8 o'clock.

Thanksgiving Day the unit will have the use of the Ranges at Point-aux-Trembles as in the past year. Last year spoons were awarded on the results of the shoot and this year the same feature is planned.

POLOISTS TO BEGIN PRACTICE SESSIONS

First Workout This Afternoon At 5.30 In K. Of C. Tank

WATER POLO practices get off to an official start this afternoon at 5.30, when Coach George Vickerson greets his senior and junior candidates at the K. of C. pool. With practically every member of both squads expected back this year, the Red nators should provide no set up to the other league teams during the coming season.

Since the McGill boys start at a disadvantage in that most of the other squads have had at least two weeks of previous training, the Red team will plunge right into a vigorous training schedule. Opening league games are about two weeks away.

New Senior Team
This season will see the introduction of another team into the senior city league. The M.A.A.A. Reds, Dominion Junior Champions of the past season will move up to senior company and should provide even keener competition throughout the league schedule.

In the junior section the vacancy caused by the promotion of the Wheelers will probably be filled this year by the addition of another Y.M.H.A. team to the league.

Newcomers Welcomed
Newcomers to the team will be given an equal chance with veterans during the coming practice sessions. To encourage new men to turn out for water polo and swimming the Club has decided to provide free towels and lockers to those turning out regularly to the practices.

TRACK

Track practice is being held at the Stadium daily, from 3 to 6 p.m. Candidates are needed for both Senior and Intermediate Teams.

All men interested are urged to turn out on time.

Interfaculty Meet, Thursday, October 12.

Senior Intercollegiate Meet, Friday, October 20th, at Kingston.

Intermediate Intercollegiate Meet, Friday, October 27th, at McGill.

Loew's Theatre

This week Loew's Theatre returns again to the showing of vaudeville. Realizing that this is more than an ordinary occasion, the management has provided a bill which is better than the usual run.

Instead of the ordinary five or six acts as has been the practice in the past, a giant, single act is shown, headed by Henry Santrey. This act, which as far as we know has no name, can legitimately be called Variety, for it includes singing, dancing, acrobatics, instrumental music, and more-over, a number of talented performers. Some thirty people take part, and if the actions of the audience mean anything, then this show rises far above the average.

On the screen, Kay Francis and Lyle Talbot take the leading parts in another "medico flicker" called "Mary Stevens M. D." The story is of the usual run, and while among other things, an attempt is made to show the difficulties of the female medical practitioner, at times the action and sequence of the plot is slow if not at a standstill.

If only for the vaudeville and short features, we recommend this show as good entertainment.

THE RHODES SCHOLARSHIP TRUST.

704 McLeod Building,
Edmonton, Alberta.
September 7th, 1933.

The Editor,
McGill Daily,
McGill University,
Montreal, Canada.

Dear Sir,—For the benefit of such Alberta students as may be pursuing their studies at eastern universities, I should like to call attention to the fact that the Alberta Committee of Selection for the Rhodes Scholarships will shortly be receiving applications for this year's nomination.

To be eligible a candidate must be a British subject with at least five years' domicile in Canada and unmarried. He must have passed his nineteenth, but not have passed his twenty-fifth birthday on October 1st, 1934. He must have completed two years of his course at a Canadian university by the same date. Candidates may apply either for the Province in which they have their ordinary private domicile, home or residence or for the Province in which they have received at least two years of their college education before applying.

This latter condition is often overlooked by possible candidates. It means that an Alberta man studying in the east may, if he wishes, apply in Alberta. The Alberta Committee is anxious to make this regulation as widely known as possible so that eligible men will be fully aware of their opportunities, and welcomes applications from men of this Province who are studying in the east, quite as sin-

Murray To Defend McGill Tennis Title In Tourney Friday

Strong Red Squad Favoured To Retain College Crown

EXPECT LARGE LIST

WITH registration over and lectures in Arts opening this morning the curtain is about to be rung up on McGill's 1933-34 sports activities. Foremost among these is tennis, one of the sports which has been progressing most rapidly at Old McGill. Under the able tutelage of Marcel Rainville, Canada's fifth ranking tennis star and number one ranking court expert in the Province of Quebec, such stars have developed as Laird Watt, Canadian Intercollegiate champion, Provincial champion and second ranking player in the province; Bob Murray, McGill champion, winner of the Verdun Invitation Tourney and many others and third ranking star in Quebec; and Kenny Farmer, diminutive star of McGill's Senior Hockey championship squad, who paired with Murray to annex the Intercollegiate Doubles title.

Finlay McMartin, veteran of many McGill racquet campaigns, will again be sporting the Red and White banner in this year's Intercollegiate campaign. Gordie Meiklejohn is expected to cause trouble to the Redmen's opponents with his left-handed tactics, Gordie belonging to that small but powerful brigade of southpaws. Another McGill man to be reckoned with is Ralph Linton. With this array of stars and any possible newcomers, the Crimson Clan should have no great difficulty in successfully defending their Intercollegiate Crown.

Tourney on Friday

To commence this year's tennis activities in the university, Manager Ken Farmer has called the annual McGill tennis tourney for Friday, Oct. 6, entries to close on Thursday, Oct. 5. As usual this tournament will take place on the Campus Courts. The entry fee for this tournament will be fifty cents and this must be handed in to Mr. Brown with the entries, at the courts before twelve o'clock noon on Thursday.

Bob Murray, present champion of the Redmen, will defend his title against an outstanding array of court experts, led by Watt, last season's runner-up. It is from the results of this tournament that this year's squad will be picked to defend the Intercollegiate title at Kingston on Oct. 18, 19, and 20.

Other Teams Strong

Leading the opposition from the other universities come Syd Hermab and Elliot Carruth of the University of Toronto; these lads from Varsity are excellent exponents of the racquet but hardly measure up to the calibre of Murray and Watt. Queens might be able to put up a strong front if Doug Grant, the Canadian badminton champion, and Halifax tennis champion, is back at Kingston, while Charlie Connolly, of Ottawa, another student at Queens, will have to be reckoned with. University of Montreal has a strong representative in George Leclerc, Ottawa and Alberta champion, who came to the local French University last Fall after starting the season at Varsity and playing on the Queen City College squad. With the presence of this racketeer the French college's chances will be considerably brighter.

It is hoped that the tournament to be held this Friday will be a success and will draw as large an entry list as in previous years, but for those who intend to play don't forget that entries close at noon Thursday.

How About The Professor?

Hospitals and hospitality do not work together at the University of Mississippi, according to a recent report. The report stated that 90 students and an English professor were on the list of people who had not paid for meals eaten while in the university hospital. All the students were prohibited from attending classes until these sums were paid.

Pictures In Library

The University of Kentucky has hit upon the idea of the library as a site for the hall of fame. Pictures of the Campus notables are displayed from a wall case, to perhaps inspire all those who don't go to a college library to study.

NOTICE

A student cafeteria and tea room is to be opened in Strathcona Hall, on Wednesday, October 4. Watch the Daily and Notice Boards for further word.

certainly as from those who may be studying here.

The Alberta Committee will this year meet somewhat earlier than usual and completed applications will have to be in my hands on or before October 25th. I would be pleased to hear from any prospective candidate.

Yours faithfully,

H. A. DYDE,

Secretary of Alberta Committee of Selection of the Rhodes Scholarship Trust.

Wrestling Coach Resigns Post After Lengthy Service

George Smith, for twenty odd years the wrestling coach of McGill's representatives in the Intercollegiate B.W. & F. Assault, will be absent when the timekeeper's bell rings next spring to usher in the annual tournament. The popular grey-thatched mentor regretfully relinquished all connection with the red squad by resigning from his post.

Coach Smith first led his charges to the Intercollegiate title way back in the season of 1913-14 and saw them repeat again in the following. The most recent success of the Smith-coached men took place four years ago after a long string of defeats at the hands of Varsity, who found conditioning much easier with the superior advantages of Hart House.

Saxon Appointed

Frank Saxon, one of the best known coaches of the mat game in Canada has been appointed to the vacant post and will begin his efforts to bring the red grapplers out on top by calling the first practice for five o'clock this afternoon at the Montreal High School Gym. The new coach intends to put his men into fighting condition and then run them through the gauntlet of city competition.

Saxon has been in charge of the last two Canadian Olympic squads and has been attached to the Central Y.M.C.A. Club for the past fifteen years. His successes in the later position have been most outstanding for his pupils swept six out of the eight classes at the last provincial meet.

WATER POLO

There will be a water polo practice at 5.30 this afternoon in the Knights of Columbus pool on Mountain Street. Everyone interested is invited to be on hand.

Red Soccer Team Bows To Sun Life

Newcomers To Team Show Good Early Season Form

O. K. ROSS PLAYS GOAL

HAY Finlay's squad of Red soccer-ermen ran up against Sun Life in the Red team's first encounter of the season and came out second best at the short end of a 3-2 score, Saturday, Sept. 30th. The team, consisting of the nucleus of last year's outfit, abetted by a group of newcomers who are showing fine form for the start of the season, held the Sun Lifers for the major part of the game, but fell victims to the Lifers' strong attacks.

Sun Life opened the day's scoring through Davies, after 25 minutes of play. Combining with several of his teammates, Davies ran the ball up close and gave Goalle Ross no opportunity to spike the sphere.

McGill Retaliates.

McGill retaliated on a free shot awarded Frank Cooper, who was fouled in a melee in front of the Sun Lifers' net. Cooper made no mistake about it, and sent a blistering shot home into the corner of the net.

Hotchkisson, of Sun Life, went on the war path shortly before the half time whistle, and stabbed a sharp one in the general direction of the McGill net which hit the upright and bounded into the net past O. K. Ross.

Cooper Tallies.

Finishing the day's scoring, Frank Cooper tore in close and let one fly at the Lifers' goalie, who extended himself in vain to stop it.

Efforts to tie the score were futile, as superior condition in the Lifers' camp told the tale. The final minutes of the 90 minute struggle extended the condition of the Redmen to the utmost. Seeing that the team has only been out under Coach Hay Finlay since the 15th, their condition was bound to lack something of the stamina that means so much in soccer. This can readily be repaired, however, and with more practice the squad promises much.

Two Graduations.

The team suffers from graduations. Ken Ross, brilliant goal keeper, and George Owen, centre half, will be sorely missed. Candidates for the goal tend position are O. K. Ross, who showed up effectively in the game on Saturday, and Ken Evelyn, last year's sub goal tend. Harkness and Reece will, in all probability, fill the full back positions. Bob Flood's exhibition on Saturday shows him to be the man for the centre half position. The MacDonald footballer is acquainted with the whole bag of tricks.

Coach Finlay has the following soccerites from whom to choose for a strong half line: Janikun, Minnion, McBroom, Horsfall, Lowe, Felner and Ross. The latter four are all newcomers to the Red soccer team. Hemens, Cooper, Nolan, Jones, Innis and Carter are all at the beck and call of Coach Finlay for the forward line. Herb Crabtree is expected out any day, Janikun will, no doubt, turn out soon.

All newcomers, experienced or inexperienced, will be welcomed on the Upper Field. Practices are held daily from four to six.

Cinders Fly Again As Red Trackmen Practice At Stadium

Prospects Good For Championship Squad This Year

PHIL EDWARDS BACK

FLYING cinders again mark a familiar scene at Molson Stadium, as Coach F. M. Van Wagner's 1933-34 edition of senior and intermediate track teams prepare for a full season of competitive activity.

Despite the fact that eight track and field men of senior calibre are lost to the squad this season through graduation and ineligibility rulings, the McGill mentor is still confident of presenting a senior squad, which should have at least an even chance of retaining its intercollegiate track crown for the fourth consecutive time.

Team Prospects Good

The loss of veteran performers like Drew, Hutchins and Sampson to intercollegiate competition is naturally a hard blow to the squad. Some excellent performances on the part of intermediate team members during the past season, however, have placed them as possibilities for the senior vacancies, and the strength of this season's squad should therefore compare favorably with last season's championship aggregation.

The mainstay of this year's team will, of course, be Phil Edwards, whose summer activities along the cinder paths have left him in the proverbial 'pink'. His establishment of a new world mark for the 1,000 yard distance during the Toronto Exhibition track meet, and the equalling of the world record for the 660 yard run, just a week later, at Montreal, were climaxes to a series of outstanding races in which Edwards has competed during the past summer. His presence on this season's senior team will therefore mean a great deal to the Redmen's chances against their intercollegiate rivals.

Worrall In Condition

Performances of other McGill track stars over the summer rival those of Edwards, however. Jim Worrall, lanky track and field ace, whose high jumping ability has established him as unquestioned intercollegiate champion in that event, proved his mettle over the summer, in another of his favorite events. Running in one of the M.A.A.A. handicap meets he smashed the native Canadian record in the 400 metre hurdles, against a strong field of timber-topping competitors. Unfortunately, a tipped hurdle prevented the performance from entering the record books. Herb Crabtree in the sprints and Charlie Frankton at lengthier distances, are likewise well up in condition due to summer track work.

During the coming season, Coach Van Wagner wishes to emphasize particularly that new candidates to the teams will be given every opportunity to work out at the track. Track shorts (Continued on Page 6)

Beatty of the C.P.R.

As Montrealers Know Him
Reprinted from Montreal Daily Herald

Ed. Beatty is a quarter-back who studied law, but by a twist of fate, became a railway president.

Though he couldn't make the first string on the Varsity gridiron squad he had no difficulty with the C.P.R. and has played regularly ever since. They say it was Shaughnessy coaching that turned the trick (Lord S. not Shag).

He is probably the shyest man in Canada.

The ladies admire him because he wears his hat over one eye and walks with a quarterback swagger. The fact that he is a bachelor and apparently intends to remain one provides a second element of "je ne sais quoi" to keep feminine hearts in a state of flutter.

Business men like him because he talks straight from the shoulder and has an uncanny talent for getting at the core of the most intricate problem.

The man in the street respects him because he preaches The Gospel Of True Canadianism.

Politicians fawn on him because he is the boss of the C. P. R.

The Prince of Wales is another citizen who thinks Beatty is "all right," and His Royal Highness is always ready to prove it by officiating at the launching of a new C. P. R. ship.

Ordinary people respect him highly, and are sorry his railway is having a hard time.

As a youth he wanted to be a judge, but Fate intervened and sent him a job in the C. P. R.'s legal department. Young Beatty refused to regard this as his life-work, but ultimately had to decide in a hurry when the late Lord Shaughnessy sent for him and asked him to be a Vice-President.

Here is one version of what took place:

Beatty said "No!" "Tom" Shaughnessy fixed the young attorney with a stern eye and exclaimed, "My God, Beatty! Do you want to be a mere lawyer all your life?" Young Beatty smiled and took the job.

Some people think Mr. Beatty is hard to reach and tales are told of citizens who wait for weeks for the call to conference. Nevertheless he is the easiest man in the country to talk to, provided you can crash the outer office.

He is one of the few leading citizens who go in for Good Works in a Big Way without thought of publicity or praise. Not long ago the mother of an ex-Boys' Home youth who had lost his job in the States, was destitute and needed trainfare home in despair telephoned to E. W. "The Chairman and President of the C.P.R." came to the phone in person, discussed the case with the harassed mother, told her not to worry and instructed the C. P. R. official nearest to the boy to ship him back to his home, paying the fare out of his own pocket. These are the things which have won him a reputation for kindness and humanity.

He was born at Thorold, which Ontario people will tell you is situated in the Garden of Canada. He attended several schools in Toronto, and ultimately scratched his way into, through and out of Toronto University and was called to the Ontario Bar. That was in 1901 and almost at once he went into the C.P.R.'s law department. He stayed there for thirteen years before becoming the company's General Counsel. In 1916 he was elected to the Board. In 1918 they made him President, when Lord Shaughnessy dropped one of his two portfolios. Six years later he added the title Chairman to his letterhead. Since then he has held both jobs and has had plenty of worries on his hands.

He thinks co-operative management will solve the railway problem. He does more travelling than many salesmen. To-day you will see him in Calgary. Next Tuesday he will be in Montreal. On Wednesday he will appear before the Railway Commission in the Capital. On Thursday you can talk with him by long distance to the Empress of Britain, outward bound. Wherever he goes he carries his work under his hat. When times were good it used to be written that he had the Biggest Industrial Job In The World. The job to-day is probably just as big but infinitely more arduous.

His continued good repute is largely due to the idea that has got about that he is honest, honorable and, taking him by and large, as representative a citizen of Canada as can be found between the two oceans.

And there is plenty of evidence to support the charge.

Bathing Ban

Eger, Hungary. — Sixteen American tourists, ten women and six men, were recently refused admittance to the beach here when the city council prohibited mixed bathing. The Roman Catholic archbishop of Eger, mindful of the Pope's admonitions against scanty costumes and promiscuity at Italian seaside, lake and river resorts, has gone a step further, and the municipal authorities have followed suit. Hereafter the mornings on the beach are reserved for women bathers, and the afternoons for men.

CANADIAN AUTHOR MAKES BIG HIT

The literary hit of the year has been made by Frederick Niven, an author residing near Nelson, B.C., whose novel entitled "Mrs. Barry" is described by Compton Mackenzie in the Daily Mail as a profoundly moving book, and is hailed as a classic worthy to stand beside Sir James Barrie's "Margaret Ogilvy".

Although Frederick Niven has a long list of books to his credit, and has always enjoyed a following among the critics, this is his first appearance among the "best sellers". He worked his way through Canada early this century, and at one time handled baggage and freight for the C. P. R. at Nelson, B.C. He eventually took up a small holding on Kootenay Lake twenty years ago, where he has secured excellent local colour for his western stories.
